

Melanie Warren is a registered representative with Cambridge and an independent advisor representative with Lawing Financial. She holds her Series 7 and 66 registrations as well as her Missouri and Michigan life insurance license. Melanie received her Bachelor of Arts degree in broadcast journalism from the University of Missouri in Columbia. She previously worked as a high school English teacher and forensics/debate coach, as well as an account executive for The Kansas City Star.

Melanie joined Lawing Financial to fulfill her passion of educating people, especially women, to achieve their financial goals. She utilizes the team approach and personally focuses on helping her clients build wealth through knowledge and discipline. She helps her clients to understand their current financial situation and goals, and then trains them to be financially fit in order to leave behind a healthy legacy for their family.

Melanie was born and raised in Bloomfield Hills, Michigan and is proud to call the Motor city her hometown. She grew up twenty miles north of Detroit in the midst of automotive prosperity and saw firsthand what generational wealth can both accomplish, when properly managed, and destroy when neglected.

Melanie, her husband and their three children reside in Chillicothe, MO. In her free time, she enjoys spending time with family, marathon running, coaching her son's soccer team and teaching religious education.
